Has anyone been approached by IDEM or Johnson County Health Department to test your private well? If so, please make sure you don't sign anything until you fully understand it.

They will often put a clause in that if they test and find something in your home/well water, you agree to pay for it yourself or file a claim with your home owners insurance which is completely inappropriate! You did not contaminate your property or water and you love you taxes to ensure these agencies never let this happen in the first place!

Let us know and we are happy to help you navigate any paperwork you are asked to sign and have our experts analyze it for you for free.
